Marist Brothers High School field upgrade Brother Terence Costello Reports from Suva

Marist Brothers High School in Suva has been selected as one of the two schools to have its fields upgraded through a Chinese Government Aid Project. The main rugby field and a training field will have a substantial upgrading, a 100m synthetic running track will be laid along one boundary for sprints and relay training and an international standard jumping pit installed on the opposite boundary. The total cost for the two schools (the other is a Catholic Primary School) is $8m.

There is much rejoicing over this as the current rugby field is in a very poor state.
